Webcasts & Virtual Events

Stand alone or be part of an HR-themed focused event. Same options. Same price.

Take this opportunity to position your company as a market and thought leader with a presentation to an engaged audience of hundreds or even thousands of HR professionals — in their moment of need.

When it comes to managing and promoting webcasts and virtual events, we do it all: multichannel marketing efforts, speaker and influencer advocacy, hosting services, and more.

What's included:

- ✓ A webcast on topic of your choice
- ✓ MP4 recording
- ✓ Complete lead lists from live and archived views
- ✓ Real-time dashboard with registrations, leads, survey and polling results

Need a speaker or help with your presentation?

We provide those services for an additional fee.

Interested in targeting specific leads?

Ask about our On-Demand Webcast Pay Per Lead option.

Our Real-Time Dashboard Is a Real Difference-Maker

Your custom dashboard not only provides you with real-time registration numbers, but also features insights on registrants' job titles, topics of interest, pre-presentation questions, and results to surveys and polling. All in one place!

State of the Industry Research & Events

Promote your brand with an upcoming state-of-the-industry research study and virtual event! Sponsor high-quality research from our HR Research Institute to align your brand with hot HR topics and trends, with validation from survey data gathered by a team of expert researchers. The results of this simple, turnkey process: months of quality content and hundreds of targeted leads.

What's included:

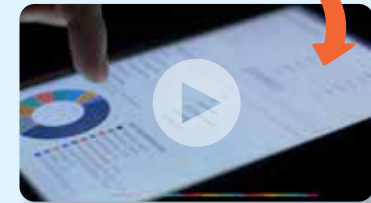

- ✓ Third-party validated research for use in your content marketing
- ✓ 25 or 55-minute webcast with MP4 recording
- ✓ Branded copy of research report and infographic
- ✓ Complete research data and 3 sets of leads
- ✓ Customized dashboard with real-time engagement metrics
- ✓ Association of your brand with hottest topics in HR

About HR Research Institute

The HR Research Institute, powered by HR.com, the world's largest social network for Human Resources professionals, is a key part of our mandate to inform and educate today's HR professionals. Over the past seven years, the HR Research Institute has produced more than 220 exclusive primary research and State of the Industry reports, along with corresponding infographics in many cases, based on the surveys of thousands of HR professionals. Each research report highlights current HR trends, benchmarks, industry best practices, and practical takeaways.

Watch this!

Saving alert: Sponsor the same research topic twice in the same year! You already have the branded research but will be able to present a new webcast at the second event and receive all those leads too!

State of Industry Research & Virtual Events

Derivative Research Report

Acquire a survey report tailored to your business, audience and needs!

What's included:

- ✓ We'll collaborate to determine the focus area of your research report, looking at our survey research to identify findings relevant to your business.
- ✓ We'll develop a 5- to 7-page report that is designed according to your needs.
- ✓ You'll have a cornerstone branded piece of content — filled with survey data — to distribute to prospects, to generate leads, or to drive your content marketing.

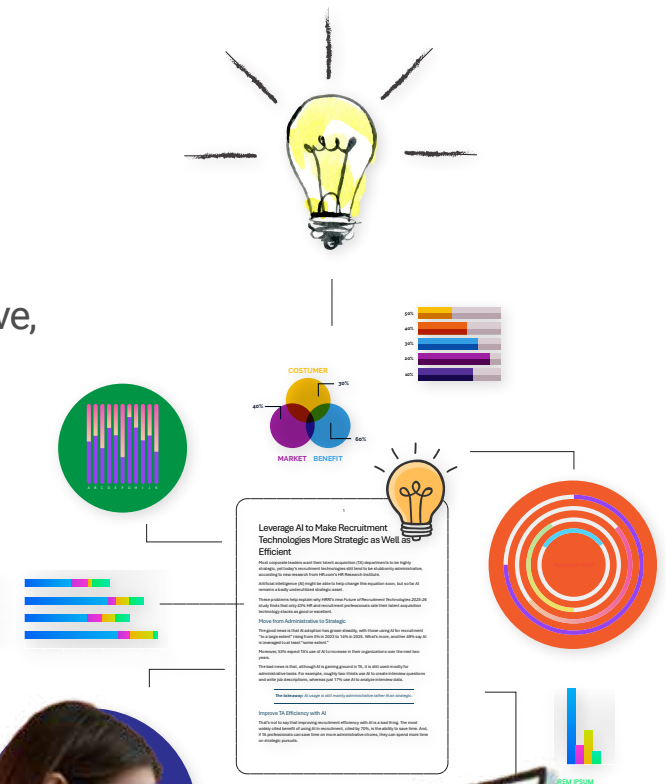

State of Industry Research & Virtual Events

SOI Research Brief (Custom Article)

Get more value for your research sponsorship by adding an authoritative, data-driven article that will power your content marketing!

What's included:

- ✓ Our research team writes a 500-800 word article based on the data from the State of the Industry survey and report, highlighting findings that align with your solutions, messaging and expertise.
- ✓ We will design the article in your brand.
- ✓ You get to use the article as a vehicle for showcasing your expertise, demonstrating the need for your solutions, and for reaching new prospects.

State of Industry Research & Virtual Events

Instant Report (Custom Infographic)

Leverage our survey data to power your marketing with visual content!

How it works:

- ✓ You'll meet with our research team to review our completed research surveys to identify data points to use in your infographic. We'll come ready with some suggestions based on your products and our findings.
- ✓ You choose the theme (e.g. fun, corporate).
- ✓ Within 4-6 weeks, our design team will have your custom infographic (approx 4-6 pages) ready, giving you a high-quality resource for your marketing and your website.
